

Ehdra Frazier, affectionately known as “The Beautiful Bald Bella,” is a native of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, where she began classical vocal training at a young age. Her rich, expressive voice blends classical discipline with gospel passion, carrying both strength and tenderness.

She served as Co-Chair of Akron’s Gospel Meets Symphony under the direction of Maestro Christopher Wilkins and performed as a featured soloist with the Akron Symphony Orchestra.

Ehdra has shared stages and performed in connection with artists such as Josh Groban, Kierra Sheard, and Smokie Norful, and has ministered in numerous gospel choirs and ensembles across the country.

She is a Nanee to her 6 grandchildren, which she affectionately calls, her G-Boos, and a mom to three beautiful children, whom she raised in Akron, Ohio.

She worked for over three decades alongside corporate leaders; and helped manage nonprofit organizations and churches in Summit and Stark county.

Affectionately called “The Beautiful Bald Bella,” Ehdra embraces her signature bald style as a symbol of confidence and authenticity. What some see as unconventional, she sees as elegant strength. She created a natural shave and scalp care product line designed to keep bald heads healthy and radiant — reframing baldness not as an issue, but as a style. Her innovation was featured on the Steve Harvey “Funder Dome” segment 2, a Shark Tank–style spotlight highlighting emerging entrepreneurs.

Today, at 62 years young, Ehdra is a licensed insurance agent in the state of Ohio, a nonprofit and business consultant, a grant writer, and a natural health and beauty product consultant and advocate.

But above all, she is a lover of God and people. Her life’s mantra is simple: the love of God is the ultimate gift — and when we walk in it, we make the world a better place.
